

HOME HAPPENINGS

—Many Mahoning county farmers have ground ready for wheat sowing.

—The squirrel season opened Wednesday. Sportsmen report game scarce in this neighborhood.

—G. E. Lechleitner is having a double garage built near his West Main street residence.

—Paint has greatly improved the appearance of Carl's Cramer's farm buildings, south of the village.

—Quite a number of people from this neighborhood attended the Lisbon fair Wednesday and Thursday.

—Many truck loads of nearly every kind of fruit are being hauled through Canfield to Youngstown by southern Mahoning and Columbia county growers.

—The Canfield public schools reopened on Monday night. It was decided to have the schools open at 8 o'clock in the morning in all the grades and the number in the high school is close to one hundred.

—A young fox squirrel was noticed on West Main street the other day which would seem to indicate that not all the fox squirrels once numerous in the park have entirely disappeared.

—The Canfield Gas & Electric Co. is drilling another well on the farm of C. H. Hine, west of the village, in the hope of striking natural gas. The company now has one producing well on the farm.

—At the meeting of the village council Monday night it was decided to repair the roads on East Main and North Broad streets with cold patches and tar and finish the road leading from the Erie Station to the Salem road, using furnace ashes.

—A lecture course of five numbers, three musical entertainments and two lectures, has been arranged for Canfield the coming season. Prof. R. B. Snell, principal of the high school, has the matter in hand and is very certain the course will be most pleasing to patrons.

—Coy Brothers, who have the contract to construct a macadam road from the Canfield-Green township line south one mile and west through Calla, expect to resume work next week after being held up some time through inability to secure slag and other materials. The grading was completed several weeks ago and it was expected that the road would be finished this year but that will not now be possible.

COUNTY FARMER'S INSTITUTES

State aid farmers' institutes will be held at the following points in Mahoning county this season, according to an announcement issued by F. L. Allen, state superintendent of farmers' institute: North Jackson, Dec. 31 and Jan. 1, Greenford, Jan. 3 and 4, North Lima, Jan. 10 and 11, Berlin Center, Jan. 14 and 15.

In addition to lecturing on problems of production, farm management, and marketing, farmers' institute workers will give support to the program of county, state, and national farm bureaus in order that speakers may better direct their efforts, institute secretaries have been asked to furnish information concerning local farm problems.

The institute staff this year includes 61 speakers, all of whom have had outstanding experiences along the lines of information given in their lectures.

Owing to insufficient funds and the increased cost of conducting farmers' institutes, a maximum of only four rather than five state aid institutes has been scheduled for each Ohio county this year.

EXPLOSION WRECKED BANK KILLING AND INJURING MANY

The J. P. Morgan Co. banking house in Wall st., New York, was wrecked by a terrific explosion at noon Thursday. Whether it was the work of a bomb thrower or an accident has not been determined. Report says that from 12 to 38 people were killed and a large number injured. The stock exchange building was badly damaged and the exchange immediately closed.

—A raid accomplished by Federal officers with Sheriff Morris Monday night revealed one of the best equipped and largest raisin brandy stills yet found. The place raided was a farm near North Jackson, and it is alleged to have been operated by George Gorsich, who was placed in the county jail pending a hearing on a charge of violating the U. S. liquor laws. There were 2 stills in operation at the time of capture, and 30 gallons of raisin jack was confiscated together with 600 gallons of raisin mash. It is thought that the stills were operating for some time, the product being fed to a number of hogs which were on the place.—Vindicator.

—Columbians will have a street fair Saturday.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

—The September term of common pleas court convened in Youngstown on Monday.

—O. S. Ferris, aged Cleveland attorney, died recently from injuries received when an automobile struck him on a street crossing. A quarter of a century ago he published the Garrettville Item, a small but mighty bright local newspaper.

—The Londonville Advocate and the Londonville Democrat, published by the same men for nearly half a century are to be combined under the name of the Londonville Times. The subscription price in advance to $2 a year. The high cost of paper and higher postal rates are the reason for the consolidation and increased rate. Small town newspapers are traveling a rocky road these days.
